

- (1) What's in a name?
- (2) The analysis student who stabbed a philosophy professor
- (3) All the wives get jobs at the Catholic university
- (4) Stuck in the ER against my will
- (5) The problem with sunroofs
- (6) The donut machine.
- (7) Whatever the weather, Calculus must go on
- (8) A tale of two horses
- (9) How I wasn't on reality TV
- (10) How I got involved with chemistry without knowing any chemistry
- (11) 35 years ago, in the woods behind the math institute (trigger alert)
- (12) The canoe, the turtle, and the hand dryer
- (13) Of mice and marmosets
- (14) It's best to avoid wearing a dress in a 3-dimensional torus
- (15) My deal with a post-doc
- (16) The undergrad chair's wife plays harpsichord
- (17) How French schools are different from American schools
- (18) Strange facts about me
- (19) Games of an unsupervised childhood
- (20) Miracle berries
- (21) The cop with electric blue eyes
- (22) The last time I hitchhiked
- (23) Why math was my only choice
- (24) Cheating at Rice
- (25) A trip to India 30 years ago
  - part 0: Getting a visa
  - part 1: Imprisoned in a guest house
  - part 2: Train to Shantanikitan and the telephone booth
  - part 3: An afternoon outing, and the train ride back to Calcutta
- (26) The apple juice incident.
- (27) Dropping my pencil on an airplane
- (28) A haystack wedding
- (29) Gender-free childrearing
- (30) Advice about preparing for life after college

- (31) My husband's first teaching experience (rated R-rated for bad language)
- (32) Mystery question 1
- (33) Mystery question 2