Progress to Obtain Requiring Permissions I have used many wiki-commons images and place-holder images pending final decisions about content. I expect to start obtaining permissions in the fall of 2015. As mentioned above, I expect to use ~300 images/line drawings. I am currently developing a table of figures and permissions that will be required.

Table 3: Projected Progress (by Month) and completed stages to date. In general, each draft requires 2-3 revisions before it can be reviewed. Currently, I expect to have the project completed in August 2019. It is critical the chapters are between 20-30 pages to increase retention and readability for students. Chapters over my goal will require additional editing (i.e. time) to streamline the text and reduce the volume of text. Reviews are based on contacts in the field; currently few invitations have been made due to unforeseen circumstances.
